

ARVINAS SOCIAL MEDIA COMMUNITY GUIDELINES

Welcome to Arvinas' corporate social media channels and thank you for joining our community. Here, you will find our latest company news, information on our therapeutic areas of focus, and employee activities.

As a biotechnology company, we are mindful of the regulations that govern our industry, and all comments submitted to our social media platforms are monitored for appropriateness. We encourage you to join the conversation, but please know that when you engage, you are agreeing to our Community Guidelines, as outlined below. If you do not adhere to the following guidelines on Arvinas social media platforms, your comment may be reported and/or you may be blocked. These guidelines apply to all of our social media platforms, including but not limited to Twitter and LinkedIn.

Due to the regulatory environment in which we operate, we cannot offer medical advice or otherwise engage in a promotion or discussion about any investigational drugs, other products or treatment options. If you have questions about a medical condition, please speak to a qualified healthcare professional.

We appreciate your engagement and we actively monitor our channels, but please note that not every reply or direct message may be acknowledged or addressed. Additionally, Arvinas is not responsible for content posted by external users on our social media channels. Although we may feature links or references of external content, Arvinas does not endorse and is not responsible for the content of such sites and shall not be liable for any damages or injury arising from such content.

The following are our community guidelines, which we ask you follow to ensure we provide the best experience for the followers of our company page.

- Be respectful (content that includes profanity, is defamatory, libelous and/or offensive will be reported).
- Do not post content that is misleading, fraudulent or deceptive.
- Please do not post any personal information on our social media platforms, e.g., your address, email, or personal data.
- Do not post content that references any pharmaceutical brand, product, or service.
- Content on our social media platforms should not be construed as medical advice. If you have a specific question about your health, please consult with a healthcare professional.
- Do not provide medical advice to others on our social media channels.
- Do not share content that violate LinkedIn's User Agreement or Twitter's Terms of Service.

Please keep in mind that by posting content, you grant Arvinas an irrevocable, personal, non-exclusive, fully-paid, sub-licensable worldwide license to use that content for any purpose, including marketing and promotion. This includes a right to modify, edit, crop, highlight and/or republish your content.

Arvinas reserves the right to change the terms and conditions of these guidelines at any time.

Certain of our posts made on behalf of Arvinas Authorized Spokespersons are intended for an investor audience. Any such post, and any links therein, may contain forward-looking statements that involve risks, uncertainties and assumptions, which are outlined in the company's recent filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, and its most recent corporate deck, which is available on the "Investor and Media" section of the company's website, each of which we urge you to read. Our actual results may differ materially from what is included in those forward-looking statements.
